

Pre-requisites:

This workshop is highly interactive and expects your undivided attention and active participation.

Please block the workshop time on your calendar, mark it as “Busy” so you don’t have any distractions. Also, if you are attending from home, make sure your family is aware of your participation and will not interrupt you for the 90 minutes of workshop time.

Check and prepare your microphone and camera beforehand. They will be needed during the workshop.

FAQ:

What is the format of this workshop?

It’s a mixed format, that includes instructors lectures, and several individual and group activities. The group activity includes group discussions in the Airmeet table format. You will be actively discussing the topics provided by the instructor – in small groups (3-4 participants).

The instructions on how to ‘take a seat at the Airmeet table’ will be provided during the session.

Are there any prerequisite reading or software installation?

No

Do I need to be a manager or a senior specialist to participate?

No. The workshop is designed to any level of seniority in your career. It’s aimed to open and prepare you to next steps and discover advanced career opportunities, whatever your aspirations are.

If I cannot participate, can I listen to recording and learn from it?

The workshop nature is active participation, not a simple lecture. It includes the group activities and assessments. The mere listening to the recording will not give you much. If you find the topic valuable to you, make plans to allocate 90 minutes of your time and actively participate.

Can I participate through text only?

You will need to use your voice in active discussions, video is advised. Prepare your A/V tools beforehand.
